Komu's mother sent him to the market to buy tomatoes and oranges. She gave Komu some money and told him, "Keep the money safely."

On the way to the market, Komu met an old man. The old man was standing by the road. He said to Komu, "My son, please help me to cross the road."

Komu remembered that their teacher had taught them how to cross the road.

Komu held the old man's hand and they both crossed the road safely.

"Thank you," said the old man.

"Welcome," Komu said.

Komu then went to the market. He bought tomatoes and oranges. He then ran back home. Komu was surprised to find the old man seated in their house.
